

Klein Oak student selected to participate in High School Aerospace Scholars

Nick Santoro, a third year International Baccalaureate (IB) student at Klein Oak High School, has been selected to participate in High School Aerospace Scholars 2007-2008. High School Aerospace Scholars (HAS) is an interactive online learning experience, highlighted by a six-day internship where selected students are encouraged to study math, science, engineering, or computer science by interacting with engineers at the NASA Johnson Space Center (JSC). In addition to completing an extensive application and meeting academic criteria, Nick was nominated by State Representative Patricia Harless District 126.

Nick plans to pursue a career in aerospace engineering and hopes to attend one of the military academies. His interests include aviation, astronomy, physics, basketball, cello, Boys Scouts, and community service.
